CONDITIONS OF ASSURANCE.

1. Should any Premium be unpaid beyond thirty days after it has become due, the Policy shall cease to be in force; but upon application to the Directors, the Policy may be revived on such terms and conditions as they shall think proper; if however the person whose Life is assured should die within the thirty days, the Premium not having been then paid, the Policy shall not be considered as having ceased, provided the Premium be paid within sixty days next after the same shall have become due.
2. If the person whose Life is assured shall go beyond the limits of Europe (but no part of the high seas in the passage from any part of Europe to another part of Europe shall be considered beyond such limits) or shall be engaged in actual Naval or Military service, or being or becoming a Seafaring person shall go upon the High Seas in pursuance of his occupation, this Policy will become void, unless in each instance a Premium adequate to the extra risk, to be settled by the Directors, shall have been paid before such risk is incurred, or shall be paid within sixty days thereafter.
3. Policies effected by persons on their own Lives will become void if such persons die by duelling, or by their own hands, or the hands of justice, but this condition shall not prejudice the right or interest of any Assignee or Purchaser bona fide for valuable consideration. And if any person so assured shall die by his own hands or by duelling, the Association will repay to his representatives all the Premiums they shall have received on such Policy (but so as in no case to exceed the sum originally assured, and without interest thereon), deducting therefrom what the Association may be liable to pay to any mortgagee or incumbrancer.
4. The Association shall not be affected by any notice of an assignment of a Policy, other than a notice in writing to be presented and left at the office of the Association, and at the same time the assignment shall be produced and left at the office for the space of three clear days at the least.
5. That in case of any Policy, being or becoming, the subject of any Trust or Trusts whatsoever, the receipt of the Trustees or Trustees for the time being for any money which may become payable in respect of such Policy, shall be an effectual discharge to the Association.
6. All claimants upon the death of any person whose Life shall have been assured by the Association must, if required by the Directors, give satisfactory proof of such death, and give such further information respecting the same as the Directors shall think reasonable; and reasonable proof will be required of the age of the life Assured, unless admitted by memorandum on the Policy.
7. In cases where the Premiums are made payable half-yearly or quarterly, the unpaid Premiums, if any, for any portion of the then current year of Assurance in which the claim arises, shall be considered due, and be deducted from the sum assured; such current year to be reckoned from the same day in the year as that on which the Policy bears date.
